Stone fruits have something in common—there is a pit in the middle of their fruit, which is where the word “stone” comes from.

Look for them this month!
Look for them this month!

The average person will consume over 10,000 carrots in their lifetime.
Squash is great for skin and eye health.

Look for it this month!

GROWN HERE IN WASHINGTON

SQUASH

This poster was supported by the Cooperative Agreement Number, 1NU58DP000018, funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention or the Department of Health and Human Services.
GROWN HERE IN WASHINGTON

Approximately 71,089 people in the world have the last name Bean.

Look for them this month!

BEANS AND LENTILS

This poster was supported by the Cooperative Agreement Number, 1NU58DP000018, funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention or the Department of Health and Human Services.
More than half of all apples grown in the United States for fresh eating come from orchards in Washington State!

Look for them this month!
Happy cows produce better tasting milk, and more of it. Washington’s cows must be really, really happy.
Whitman County in southeast Washington has been the #1 wheat growing county in the United States since 1978.

Look for Them this month!
It only takes 4 weeks to transform from a tiny seed to a round, juicy root bursting with flavor. If the weather is on the hotter side, you will produce a spicier radish.

Look for them this month!

This poster was supported by the Cooperative Agreement Number, 1NU58DP000018, funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention or the Department of Health and Human Services.
White and green asparagus come from the same plant! Sunlight turns the stalk green. When dirt is piled on top of the plant, photosynthesis is inhibited and the stalks remain white.

Look for it this month!
Strawberries are usually the first berry to start ripening in Washington state. Each strawberry has an average of 200 tiny seeds.

Look for them this month!